Vendor Purchase Order Terms and Conditions
Updated 5/2025

1. Definitions: As used in this document, “Order” or “Agreement” shall mean this purchase order and all attachments, exhibits and documents to which reference is made. “Material” shall mean the goods and/or services covered by the Order. “Seller” shall mean the person, corporation or other entity to whom the Order is addressed. “Purchaser” shall mean Rhinestahl Corporation or any of its subsidiaries in whose name this Order is issued.

2. Interpretation: All of the documents contained in the Order shall be complementary to each other. Anything required by one shall be deemed included in and required by the others. Any conflict between the various documents shall be brought to the attention of Purchaser, whose interpretation thereof shall be conclusive. The Order supersedes and replaces all prior agreements and understandings relating to the Material. Course of dealing between Seller and Purchaser shall not waive or modify any of the terms of the Order.

3. Acceptance: Seller may accept the Order by commencement of any work on the Material, shipment of any of the Material, or by written acknowledgment of the Order. The Order is subject to acceptance only on the terms and conditions contained in the Order. The terms of a written acknowledgment or other documents shall not be effective to amend, supplement or negate any of the terms of the Order but shall constitute acceptance of all of the terms of the Order. If the Order is deemed to be the acceptance of Seller’s offer, such acceptance is expressly limited to the terms of the Order and Purchaser specifically objects to any different or additional terms, whether or not material, contained in such offer.

4. Change: Purchaser may make changes in the scope of work, quantity of items, quality requirements, character, specifications, packaging, delivery and other terms of the Order at any time by written change order. In such event, the price and delivery date set forth in the Order may be modified by written agreement of Purchaser and Seller. Within 10 days after receipt of any change order, Seller shall provide to Purchaser, for its review, a detailed statement of any change in price or delivery date requested by Seller resulting from Purchaser’s change order. Any claim for increase in price or delay in delivery shall be deemed waived unless made within such period, in which case Seller shall fill the changed Order at the original price and on the original terms. No amendments, substitutions or other changes to this Order shall be effective unless set forth in writing and signed by an authorized representative of Purchaser.

5. Inspection: Seller shall perform on the Material all regular production tests without additional charge to Purchaser. Purchaser and its representatives shall have the right to enter upon any premises where any work on the Material is being conducted for the purpose of witnessing such work, verifying quality assurance systems, procedures and records and inspecting the Material and expediting delivery of the Material. Such inspections shall not be an acceptance of any work performed and shall not relieve Seller of its obligations under the Order. All Material shall be subject to final inspection and acceptance for a reasonable period after receipt by Purchaser and may be rejected for failure to comply with the Order at any time prior to final inspection or within a reasonable time after final inspection if the nonconformity could not be detected by reasonable inspection. Any acceptance by Purchaser may be revoked at any time in accordance with applicable law.

6. Delivery: Time is of the essence of the Order. Seller shall provide Purchaser with weekly written reports of the production status and anticipated delivery date of the Material. Purchaser may store any Material received by it prior to the delivery date specified in the Order at Seller's risk and expense. If any Material is not received by the delivery date specified in the Order, Purchaser may either (i) terminate the Order without any liability to Seller and Seller shall refund any amounts previously paid under this Order by Purchaser, or (ii) require Seller to ship the Material by the most expedient means at Seller's risk and expense. In either event, Purchaser shall be entitled to recover from Seller any additional expenses, losses, penalties or other costs arising from such delay or the purchase of substitute goods or services.

7. Excusable Delay: Seller shall have no liability for any delay in delivery arising solely from causes that are beyond its control and the control of its vendors, and not reasonably foreseeable, such as fires, floods, explosions, riots, wars, acts of public enemies, and acts of governments. In order for any such event to excuse a delay, Seller must notify Purchaser of its occurrence within five (5) days and take all reasonable action to overcome its effect. Purchaser may terminate the Order without any liability to Seller with respect to any Material delayed more than thirty (30) days. If any portion of the Order is terminated pursuant to this clause, Seller shall continue performing any uncanceled portion. Seller shall not be entitled to any increase in price arising from an excusable delay.

8. Shipping Instructions: All Material shall be delivered F.O.B. to the location specified in the Order, by carriers and routes designated by Purchaser. Seller shall be responsible for, and Purchaser may deduct from any amount owed to Seller, any increase in freight arising from shipment to locations, by carrier, by method or via routes other than those designated by Purchaser. If Purchaser fails to designate a carrier or route, Seller shall ship the Material by freight, using the most direct route. Regardless of F.O.B. location, Seller will bear all risk of loss or damage of the Material occurring prior to acceptance by Purchaser. Seller shall, without additional charge, provide all packing, crating and shipping containers necessary for shipment, prominently labeled with Purchaser's order number, weight and lifting points and shall contain an itemized packing list containing Purchaser's order number, description, part number and Seller's count. Purchaser's count shall be conclusive on any shipment not accompanied by an itemized packing list. Partial shipments are permitted unless otherwise stated in the Order.

9. Packaging: Seller shall be responsible for packing and packaging necessary to withstand transportation hazards and for preparing shipments in accordance with Purchaser's packing instructions.

10. Warranty: Seller warrants that all Material shall: conform to Purchaser's specifications or, if none, applicable industry standards; be free from any defect in design, material or workmanship; be of sufficient size; be free from encumbrances; and otherwise be suitable for the purpose intended. If any Material fails to meet any of the above warranties at any time before the expiration of twelve (12) months from the date of operation by an end user or twenty-four (24) months from the date of installation, whichever is shorter, Seller shall, at its risk and expense and at the place at which such Material is then located, repair, rework or modify the Material so as to comply with the above warranties, or replace such Material with new Material meeting all of the terms of the Order, within the time required by Purchaser. In addition, Seller shall reimburse Purchaser, and Purchaser may deduct from amounts otherwise owed to Seller, any expenses or damages incurred by Purchaser as a result of the failure of any Material to comply with the above warranties, including but not limited to costs of replacement Material and repairs performed by Purchaser as a result of Seller's inability or refusal to perform such repairs or replacement within the time required by Purchaser.

11. Nonconformance: If any Material is found at any time to be defective in material or workmanship, or otherwise not in conformity with the requirements of this Order, including any design requirements of this Order, then Purchaser, in addition to its other rights and remedies, may, at its option, correct or have corrected the nonconformity at Seller's expense or reject and return such Material at Seller's expense. Seller shall not replace any returned Material without written authorization from Purchaser.

12. Patents: If the Material contains items that are of Seller's design, Seller warrants that the manufacture, sale and use of the Material does not infringe any patent, copyright, trademark or other intellectual property right of any person, and Seller agrees to defend, indemnify, and hold Purchaser and its customers harmless from any loss, cost, expense, claim or demand based on infringement or claimed infringement. If any Material is found to infringe any intellectual property right, Seller shall, at its sole cost, replace such Material with noninfringing goods or services of same or better quality and functionality, obtain for Purchaser the royalty-free right to continue using the Material, or modify the Material so as to be non-infringing without loss of functionality.

13. Indemnity: Seller shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Purchaser and its customers, and the directors, officers, employees, agents, successors, assigns and subcontractors of Purchaser and its customers, from and against all claims, liabilities, damages, losses and expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) for any injury (including, without limitation, bodily injury, death or property damage) arising, directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, out of the Material or Seller's breach of the Order.

- b) Statutory Workers' Compensation and or Employer's Liability as required by state or country law;

If any of the above policies are claims made policies, Seller shall keep in effect all such policies (or tail coverage) for at least four years after the termination of this Order. Upon Purchaser's request, Seller shall provide Purchaser with a certificate of insurance evidencing that the required minimum coverage is in effect and that Purchaser is named as an additional insured, provide a waiver of subrogation clause in favor of Purchaser, and provide that all coverage provided by Seller shall be primary. Such insurance shall not exclude the actions of any subcontractor that Seller may utilize. Seller shall provide the insurance referenced in this Section 14 without effect on any obligation imposed upon Seller under this Order.

15. Retention of Records: Seller shall maintain records regarding this Order and the Material in accordance with Purchaser's "Supplier Quality System Requirements."
